

Frostburg Lions to host annual all-star basketball tournament

FOR THE CUMBERLAND TIMES-NEWS

FROSTBURG — Elmer Smith, Frostburg Lions basketball coordinator, has announced that the 28th annual Maryland-West Virginia High School All-Star Basketball Classic will be held April 20, beginning at 2 p.m. in the Cordts Arena, Frostburg State University.

The tournament was conceived by Jim Newlon and Gary Clem as a means to highlight the skills and abilities of high school basketball players. The tournament has featured local basketball stars from Allegany County in Maryland and the eastern panhandle counties of West Virginia.

The Frostburg Lions Club and McDonald's are the major sponsors of the tournament, with approximately 30 Maryland and West Virginia businesses lending support and assistance.

The event is open to the public and tickets will be available at the gate. Proceeds from the tournament permit the Frostburg Lions Club to provide financial support for a of local youth activities screenings, scholarships other community programs.

FROSTBURG EXPRESS

Frostburg Lions schedule date for annual basketball classic

THE FROSTBURG EXPRESS

FROSTBURG — Elmer Smith, Frostburg Lions basketball coordinator, announced the annual Maryland-West Virginia High School All Star Basketball Classic will be held April 20. Games will start at 2 p.m.

Jordon Lawson and Tyrell Clay from West Virginia. At last year's tournament the Maryland boys beat West Virginia and the West Virginia girls beat Maryland. The Lions estimate about 800 youth have participated in the tournaments over the years.

Proceeds from the tournament permit