

First United makes donation

Mary Lyn Longley, right, community office manager, First United Bank & Trust, presents a check to Bill Munck, president of the Frostburg Lions, to assist with the purchase of a Welsh-Allyn Vision Screening device. At left is Mary Bond, customer service officer for First United. The Frostburg and Lonaconing Lions are joining to purchase the device, which uses computer technology to screen a child's eyes, for a variety of visual problems. Trained and certified Lions can read on the spot computer printouts, and make recommendations if a problem is detected. The Lions Clubs will begin a series of vision screenings in area schools and various areas of the county. Their screenings are free and the Lions will also assist with the purchase of glasses if needed. The Lions also hope to initiate adult screenings this winter.
