Donations should be clean, in good condition

FOR THE FROSTBURG EXPRESS

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Lions Club will conduct its seventh annual Coats for Kids drive at Failinger's Hotel Gunter, Main Street, on Oct. 31.

The coat program has collected about 5,000 coats for children and adults, which are then distributed free of charge through the Frostburg Food Pantry.

Coats to be donated should be clean and in good condition. Cash contributions are also accepted, and all funds will go directly to the food pantry.

Once collected, the coats will be delivered to the food pantry for free distribution to those in need this winter. Last year the coat drive happened right at a cold snap and more than 300 coats were collected.

Coats can be dropped off at Failinger's Hotel Gunter and at the lobby of the Frostburg Village Nursing and Rehabilitation Center from 10 a.m. to noon Oct. 31.
