

Frostburg Garden Club members complete project

FOR THE FROSTBURG LIONESS

FROSTBURG — Members of the Frostburg Garden Club recently made their third and final visit to the Frostburg City greeting sign on state Route 36 to finish a landscaping project. The project, funded by a grant from the Frostburg Lions Club, is part of the Garden Club's ongoing beautification program in Frostburg.

"Keeping Frostburg beautiful," said Karen Bingman, garden club president, "is not a easy task." The garden club works year round maintaining flower beds, planters and building new garden spaces such as the Route 36 sign area.

During the recent Frostburg cleanup, garden club members donated their time and money to a variety of projects. "Our membership is very dedicated to the garden beauty in Frostburg," Bingman said. "During the warmer months it is a daily task."

Garden club members agreed, saying that the projects of the garden club them busy, planting, watering, weeding and generally maintaining dozens of planters, flowerboxes and gardens around town. Painting lampposts and other general maintenance fall to the club as well.

The Route 36 project was conceived by the Garden Club, in an effort to spruce up the view entering the city.

The Lions Club, which has the permit for the sign area, provided grant money for topsoil, mulch and a large variety of perennial bulbs and plants. Lions also provided hauling and equipment for the project. An additional sign, on braddock Road, was also included in the project.
